Presentation

The Fundación Arquitectura y Sociedad is a non-profit, private cultural entity with a national and international reach. Based in Madrid and Pamplona, it was set up in 2008 with the aim of promoting architecture as a field inextricably bound to life in society at large.

An annual activity of the organization is Campus Ultzama, held in the Navarrese municipality of Ultzama. Up to now it has involved encounters of architects from different places in the world, gathered to engage in debate on the theme at hand. Starting this year, the Campus forks out to include a parallel program: the Ultzama Summer School.

Encounters

Director: José Manuel Pozo

Scheduled to take place on June 29th and 30th and July 1st and 2nd at the Ultzama Equestrian Center, the Encounters will bring young, starting architects from different countries side by side with more experienced practitioners and scholars from various academic institutions.

The theme this time is Humanizing the City, revolving around the global problem of housing and the chaotic growth of cities on all continents.

School

Directors: Carlos Pereda,
Ignacio Olite

The Summer School will be held in two parts—one before the Encounters, and the other after. Students enrolled for the classes may, if they wish, attend the Encounters and learn from the debates and other contents therein.

Students will work with three professors in developing a single project based on the program set. The idea is to give the students the opportunity to work in a set-up resembling that of a real-life practice tasked with a commission, under the supervision of the professors. Emphasis will be on “with,” rather than on “for,” simulating the intensity and efficiency of team work in an architectural office as well as the journey through the various phases of a project, from design to execution.
