Theme : STRUCKtured

Strucktured is inspired the beauty of striking structure. Structure is the element that can't be separated from a building. However, the structural system of a building are often ignored and are not considered as part of the building's aesthetic element. As time goes by, in modern architecture world, structure is not only the supporting element but is also responsible for being the aesthetic element of the building itself.

- Exposed Structure

Structure which is clearly shown in a building has more chances to be captured in various ways (i.e. the pattern, texture, material of the structure, architectural detail, building's construction, etc)

- Hidden Structure

Structure is the inseparable part of a building. There are many hidden structural systems that can be seen easily (i.e. posts, beams, columns, etc)

- The interpretation of the structural system is fully given to the participants as long as the result of the works shows the relevancy with the given theme.
