

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY FISHER CENTER | NEW YORK, NY, USA | FEBRUARY 15 - MARCH 15, 2016

LOCALIZING COORDINATES

PICTURING ALTERED SPACES IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS:

Localizing Coordinates, an exhibition at Syracuse University's Fisher Center in Midtown Manhattan, New York examines spatial identities in Sub-Saharan Africa through images created by people in Africa. Through photographic and videographic contributions from local design professionals and students, this exhibition investigates how the built environment has registered change, giving those outside the region new understandings of altered spaces. For more information on the exhibition visit us at www.gacollaborative.org.

TO SUBMIT PHOTOS + VIDEOS:

By email: localizingcoordinates@gmail.com or By SMS or WhatsApp to +1 315 314 2277

EXHIBITION CO-CHAIRS:

Yutaka Sho | GA Collaborative + Syracuse University

Tyler Survant | SHoP Architects

Michael Leighton Beaman | GA Collaborative + Rhode Island School of Design

Exhibition Sponsored by SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL of ARCHITECTURE + GA COLLABORATIVE