Diaries of Radical Empathy

VIDEO COMPETITION

Call for Entries: Urban Omnibus and SLO Architecture invite all city circulators and mavens of transportation to compose and submit a two-minute video diary of radical empathy. Envision the city from a mode of travel you never take, or can't stand to try. Or, try to get from one place to another in the most unexpected or impossible way — swim to work, bike to the airport, kayak to dinner, climb a mountain to the post office. We encourage you to find a new experience of the city, from a point of view you've so far never given yourself a moment to know, or even knew existed.

Competition Details

An interdisciplinary jury will select three winners: one first prize, and two runners-up. Winning entries will be highlighted on Urban Omnibus alongside a three-part editorial series entitled City of Cycling, which will examine the current condition of cycling in New York City and its implications for altering urban space. The first place winner will additionally receive a $1000 cash prize, and two runners-up will receive $250 each.
