

THE 2019 CYCLE OF THE INTERIOR DESIGN AWARDS IS HERE!

BCI Asia Interior Design Awards (www.bciasiaidawards.com) seeks to recognise excellence in interior design in aesthetics, function and ergonomics. This year, the competition has extended the scope of projects to 7 categories in 7 countries. Not only should they be outstanding in design/appearance, but they must also serve the spatial functions well, and enhance occupant comfort, health and well-being.

Excellent interior designs within an urban landscape — creating vibrant and comfortable spaces.

Interiors are such an integral part of one's living, playing and working experience that the design of an interior space has gone beyond solely aesthetics or function. The Interior Design Awards seeks to recognise great interior architectural designs that stand out aesthetically, functionally and ergonomically. The competition is also a chance for entrants to generate awareness towards responsible designs (human, economic, environmental, ethical) and the importance of good design in our society.
